

Code of Behaviour

Caragh National School, Co. Kildare
18654A

Introductory Statement:

This policy was formulated by a sub-committee consisting of representatives from the teaching staff, the parent body and the Board of Management.

Throughout the document the term Chairperson refers to the Chairperson of Caragh School. The term Principal refers to the Principal of Caragh School.

This policy is prepared in accordance with Guidelines for Schools on Developing a Code of Behaviour, the Education Welfare Act 2000 and the Education Act 1998. The policy is to be read and understood in conjunction with other relevant school policies especially Anti-Bullying, Homework, Healthy Eating, Acceptable Use, School Uniform and School Safety Statement.

Relationship to Characteristic Spirit of the School.

This code of behaviour will assist our school in its aim to promote learning in a safe and caring environment. It is based on the principles of fairness, cooperation, trust and respect.

Aims:

- To promote positive behaviour and self-discipline
- To ensure that behaviour is managed in a consistent manner
- To create a safe environment where learning can take place
- To inform the whole school and to promote home/school links;
- To provide support for the staff
- Having taken into account the differences that exist, these are the rules that we consider to be necessary, fair and reasonable.
- The staff at Caragh School are aware of the factors that affect behaviour. These factors include external and interpersonal factors (such as parent and family patterns and relationships, peer groups/friends and neighbourhood and community factors) and within-person factors (including age and stage of development, personality and temperament, physical and medical characteristics and ability to learn) The staff also believe that students behaviour can change and know what they can do to make this more likely.

Guidelines:

Pupils with Special Educational/Emotional Needs

There is an expectation that pupils with special needs will adhere, to the best of their ability, to the school rules. Their role in the schools' Code of Behaviour will be discussed at the home/school meetings between parents, class teachers and the special education team and any necessary modifications to their programme of support will be agreed.

Strategies to promote positive behaviour and enhance pupils' self-esteem

Caragh NS recognizes the effectiveness of rewarding appropriate behaviour, good work/manners as a means to promoting good behaviour. Therefore, various strategies will be used to promote good behaviour and ultimately enhance pupils' self-esteem. These strategies will be based on the Incredible Years programme and will be differentiated according to class groupings. See Appendix A. While, in general, class teachers will adapt various strategies to suit their pupils, suggested rewards/strategies could include the following:

- Certificates/Commendations
- Golden Time
- Stickers/Tokens
- Homework Pass
- Edible treats (healthy options where possible)
- Affirmation from other teachers and the Principal
- On the spot praise
- Public Affirmation

Additionally, programmes such as Circle Time, Stay Safe, Talkabout, Working Together Programme, Friends and Fun Friends will be taught and implemented, as necessary, in order to model positive behaviour for the pupils and to enhance their self-worth.

We also recognise the need to introduce and remind the children, of the school rules, in a way that is age and ability appropriate. Therefore, there will be regular 'Rules Mornings' and class-level assemblies.

Class Teachers will involve their pupils in drawing up rules for their own particular class. These rules will be taught in a manner which is age appropriate to the class-level and will be on display in the class room.

Recording of Behaviours (Positive):

Notes acknowledging the positive behaviours will be displayed on designated boards.

Recording of Behaviours (Negative):

- Recording in yard book
- Teachers own class notebook.
- Recording of complaints of bullying in line with Anti-Bullying policies. Recorded on Incident Recording Template.
- School template for recording serious, gross and ongoing incidents including acts of bullying.

The recording of serious, gross and ongoing misbehaviours is vital. Ongoing, serious and gross incidents of misbehaviour will be recorded by a teacher in a standardised record system. (Copy attached) The system will record incidents, interventions, and contacts with parents, any resulting meetings and sanctions imposed. Incident report Appendix B

- These records will be kept in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1988 and the Data Protection (amendment) Act 2003. The eight rules of data protection will be on the back of incident recording sheets.

It should be noted that these lists consist of examples only – They are not meant to be a definitive list of misdemeanours and procedural steps. The nature and consistency of the behaviour will determine the strategy taken to deal with it. Misdemeanours that occur on school-organised and supervised trips will be treated under the terms of this Code of Discipline. However, incidents that occur before/after school and outside the school boundary (i.e. on the bus home) are outside the remit of this code except in exceptional cases, as dictated by legislation.
